Art Unit: 1734

The terminal disclaimer filed 6/10/2005 is proper and has been entered into the file.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 15-18, 21-24, 27-30, 33-37 and 40-44 of U.S. Patent No. 6,607,599 (Jiang et al). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Jiang et al claims the design of a stencil comprised of a sheet of metal or metal alloy material having a plurality of apertures so as to define a desired pattern thereby reading on applicant's claimed stencil pattern; a first coating applied to a surface of the sheet of material with apertures/stencil pattern and to side surfaces of the stencil openings or apertures; a second coating applied to the opposite surface of the stencil pattern. Jiang et al claims the sheet of material or stencil pattern is stainless steel pattern such as set forth in instant claim 2. Jiang et al first coating is selected from the group of materials such as set forth in instant claim 3. Jiang et al's claims the first coating is a polymeric material such as set forth in instant claim 4. Therefore, the recitation in instant claim 1 that applicant's claimed first coating has a surface tension greater than surface tension of the stencil pattern and applicant's claimed second coating has a surface tension less than the surface tension of the stencil pattern does not define applicant's invention over Jiang et al since Jiang et al material of construction for the stencil pattern, first coating and second coating reads on that claimed by applicant.
